SCENES ABOUT FRUITLAND

HISTORY

FRUITLAND INSTITUTE, a high school of high grade, seven miles northeast of Hendersonville, N. C., was established in 1899 by the Baptists of the Carolina Association, under the leadership of Rev. A. I. Justice. Other supporters in the early days worked faithfully and gave liberally of their means for the institution. The Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, through its representative, Dr. A. E. Brown, of Asheville, N. C., has co-operated in the work by making liberal appropriations, both for equipments and for maintenance. In 1917 the Transylvania Association, at Brevard, voted to unite with the Carolina Association in school work, and appointed three trustees. The guidance of the Divine Hand has been seen and recognized through all the years.

THE AIM

The school exists for the training of Christian leaders, for giving the best literary culture under Christian influence through the high school period and meeting college entrance requirements. Fruitland Institute stands for a well-rounded Christian character. Only those who have a real purpose in life may hope to be satisfied and happy here.

The Master said, "By their fruits shall ye know them." This institution desires to be judged by no other standard than by the character of the work done, the nature of the product turned out, by the life of the young men and women who have passed through and caught its spirit and ideals. Fruitland depends upon her boys and girls to give the world a conception of what is done here.

LOCATION

The location of Fruitland Institute, in the beautiful Clear Creek Valley, is most fortunate. The mountains which surround the quiet village are lovely and inspiring. The productive farms provide the necessities of life at reasonable cost. Good roads, daily mail and telephone lines furnish connection with the outside world and afford many of the advantages, without the moral dangers of town life. Fruitland and the surrounding neighborhood are as free from evil influences as any in the country.

HEALTHFULNESS

Fruitland is 2,231 feet above sea level. This elevation gives pure atmosphere and pure water, the first essentials to good health.

The sanitary condition of the premises is guarded with the utmost care and precaution. The health of the student is carefully and constantly watched to see that it is not affected by exposure or improper food. Physicians from Hendersonville furnish skillful and faithful service when they are needed.

SOCIAL LIFE

In few schools is there such close touch between pupils and teachers. Living in the same dormitories, eating with them, sharing their pleasures as well as their serious duties, the teachers become their devoted friends and advisers. That the students may possess the accomplishment of entertaining with ease and grace, receptions are occasionally given in the two Homes. About once a term the school goes on a mountain picnic.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES

Each day is begun with prayer and song. The semi-monthly church services, a well organized Sunday School, B.Y.P.U., Woman's Missionary Society, Young Woman's Auxiliary, and Sunbeam Band, together with the prayer meetings of the young men and young ladies in the respective Homes, furnish opportunity for personal work as well as cultivation of the Christian spirit. All students are expected to attend religious exercises.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

There are three well organized Literary Societies — the Philo-sophian and Chrestomathan for the young men, and the Philoponocian for the young ladies. These societies are regarded by the Faculty as important agencies in the work of education. They hold weekly meetings for debate, orations, declamations, recitations, essays and other exercises. Their importance in imparting a knowledge of parliamentary law, in cultivating a taste for reading, and in the formation of correct habits of public speaking, cannot be overestimated. Every boarding pupil becomes a member of one of these societies. Also the students who live in the community may be members.

Work in the societies is required for graduation. Each society offers a medal for the greatest improvement during the year. Other medals are awarded to winners in contest at Commencement.

LIBRARY

We have as yet a small library of only a few hundred books to which students have free access. Valuable additions are made each year by generous friends, and we would be glad further to increase the efficiency of the library by standard works. Gifts of this kind will be gladly received. The Alumni Association of the Institute has assumed the responsibility of making the library of greater value to the students. Liberal contributions have been made by a number of its members and such co-operation is expected in the near future as will give us our need in a library. Our library is a depository for public documents.

PHYSICAL CULTURE

Physical Culture is encouraged to the extent that regular classes are conducted each afternoon on the athletic fields for systematic training of both boys and girls. In addition the boys enjoy baseball, basketball, football, tennis, track and other sports; while the girls play basketball and tennis, and are chaperoned for long cross-country walks. The enthusiasm in the exercises manifests that the students have personal regard for physical development.

LOAN FUNDS

The Harold Howard Fund for ministerial students was started in 1909 by Mrs. F. A. Howard, of Slater, Missouri, in memory of her son. It has increased and has helped several worthy young men to remain in school when otherwise it would have been impossible. We appeal to friends of ministerial education to contribute to this fund.

The fund for girls was begun by Miss Josephine Lane, who considered it a pleasant privilege to work for Fruitland. This stands as a memorial to her and will always be known as the Joe Lane Fund for Girls. Another fund for girls was begun in 1913 by Mrs. J. W. Million, Dean of Hardin College, Mexico, Missouri. It is known as the Alma Byrns Loan Fund.

MINISTERIAL STUDENTS

Recognizing the importance of an educated ministry, the school offers free tuition to young men who have been licensed to preach. Sons and daughters of ministers pay one-half tuition.

BUILDINGS

There are six buildings on the grounds. The new Administration Building contains the principal's office, classrooms, auditorium, society halls and library. It is a modern structure, heated by steam, and in every way adapted to the needs of the school.

The other buildings are the old Main Building and the homes of the teachers and students. The Girls' Home provides for fifty young ladies; the Boys' Home and a cottage conveniently situated afford room for fifty young men.

A country's power centers in the home, and to develop the highest character, students need home life. A realization of these facts has led Fruitland Institute to endeavor to make her home life an example of the ideal home. Our Homes are not simply clubs, but real homes where neatness, thoughtfulness and consideration of others is sought. Each student assumes not only a portion of the daily duties, but also responsibility for the spirit of the home.

ENDOWMENT

Fruitland Institute is greatly in need of an endowment fund. If Christian Education is to be maintained in these days of competition, the churches, and individuals of means, must rally to the support of the Christian school as never before.

The teachers and pupils have started an endowment by giving a Liberty Loan Bond—others are asked to join in this. Then there are those who should remember the school in their wills. For the convenience of such, we suggest the following.

FORM OF BEQUEST

“I give, devise and bequeath to the Trustees of Fruitland Institute, for the endowment of said school, the sum of.....Dollars.”

OTHER DEPARTMENTS

In addition to the above prescribed literary course, instruction is given in the following special departments:

MUSIC

"Music washes away from the soul the dust of everyday life."

A woman's education is not complete without some knowledge of music; and men, particularly those who engage to any extent in Christian work find it helpful.

The aim of the Music Department is to equip with a practical musical education such as will qualify for service.

To adhere strictly to a prescribed course is impracticable. The needs of the individuals must be considered.

The course of instruction includes: Notation and Sight Reading, Chorus Singing, Interpretation of Hymns, Voice and Solo Work.

Piano studies include: Gurlitt, First Lessons; Duvernoy, Twenty-five Elementary Studies; Bertini, Twenty-five Easy Studies; Czerny, School of Velocity; Clementi, Selected Studies; Schmoll; Heller, Studies in Rhythm and Expression.

Voice studies include: Breathing Exercises and Voice Placing; Concone; fifty lessons.

Special encouragement is given those who have ability as singers and leaders.

Aside from the regular private music lessons, we have a class in Notation and Theory of Music.

ART

The purpose of the Art Department is not only to give the students a knowledge of drawing and painting, but to develop their powers of observation of the numberless beauties of nature and to inspire devotion in the hearts of those whom we teach, to the Creator of all beauty.

Course I—Elementary Drawing, Mechanical Drawing, Outline Drawing from Objects, Study of Light and Shadows.

Course II—Water Color Painting, Flowers and Landscapes.

Course III—Painting in Oil and Outdoor Sketching.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

This course is designed to prepare girls to meet more intelligently the demands made upon them in the home.

Doing our own work, as we do in the Girls' Home, there is a daily practical application of lessons given in classwork. It intends to teach what combinations and proportions of food are necessary for the proper nourishment of the body, giving a broad knowledge of relative nutritive value of foods, thus enabling a selection of simple foods, but those that will furnish energy and build up the body.

COURSE I

This course includes a general study of foods. The laboratory work includes the planning of meals, the preparation and serving of those meals.

COURSE II

Takes up the study of bacteria, yeasts, and molds; kinds and proportions of food required under different conditions of life; fancy cookery and demonstration work.

SEWING

COURSE I

This deals with the fundamentals of plain hand and machine sewing. All the useful stitches and finishing processes are taught.

COURSE II

This takes up the use and alterations of patterns, the operation and care of the sewing machine. In connection with each article, a strict account of the cost in time and money is required.

EXPRESSION

The purpose of this department is not merely to train pupils to recite a few pieces, but to train the voice; to teach correct interpretation of literature, and to be able to seek the underlying truth in all compositions, and to express this truth in a most natural and pleasing manner. To be able to read well and to express the thought and beauty of any composition is a most valuable accomplishment that will add pleasure throughout life.

MANUAL TRAINING

In 1916 Miss Theresa Thompson and Miss Ellen Thompson Rider, of Washington, D. C., made possible the beginning of manual training in Fruitland Institute. A good set of hand tools for wood-work was purchased. In 1917 provision was made for a set of black-smith tools. These ladies not only have equipped the department, but have also furnished the means for its maintenance. Manual training has already proved its value to the school, and greater results will be seen as the years go by.

Its purpose is to discover the boy of mechanical turn, and to train all the boys in the practical use of simple tools. Some work in this department is required of all boys and young men.

GRADES AND REPORTS

Grades are based upon the daily recitations, frequent written tests and examinations held at the end of term. Monthly examinations are held for pupils who miss three or more recitations in any one subject. Reports are sent to parent or guardian soon after the examinations.

There are two loan funds, one for ministerial students and one for girls. The rates are very reasonable. Expenses in the Boys' Home, including board, fuel and room rent, last year averaged less than $10.50 per month. In the Girls' Home they were less than $8.50 per month. This was made possible by the club plan, in which both teachers and pupils co-operate.

REGULATIONS

Written regulations are few. Whatever is deemed best for the highest interest and greatest growth of the pupil may be considered as an unwritten regulation.

Boys and girls over fourteen years of age, of good health and good character, may be received as boarding pupils. Those desiring to enter school should fill out application blank and send to the principal.

Parents desiring the absence from school of their sons or daughters should notify either the principal or the lady principal one week before the desired absence.

No boarding student will be excused from church attendance, home duties, or daily exercise. Day pupils are required to be prompt and regular in attendance upon chapel exercises and classes, and not to loiter about the village after school.

Students are held responsible for any damage done to property by them. The use of tobacco in any form is forbidden by the school.

WHAT TO BRING

The rooms are partly furnished, but each pupil should bring a pillow, two, quilts, one white counterpane, one pair of sheets and pillow cases, cover for bureau, cover for washstand, cover for study table, towels and napkins.

Pupils coming on the train to Hendersonville reach Fruitland by automobile in less than thirty minutes. If the principal is notified in time, he will have the student met at the depot. For further information, address,

SEVEN REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD DEAL AT

PATTERSON'S

WHAT IS THE "FIRST REASON?"

We will answer this question by asking one. What are the first two questions a woman asks about a Department Store of this nature? "Are their goods the correct style? And are their prices right?"

The answer to these questions is that Patterson's always combines "the latest styles and the lowest prices." Therefore, right style and price is the first reason you should always deal at Patterson's. Our motto: "Courtesy Does It."
